Alex Sink believes that disabled Floridians deserve fair protection and more effective benefits when it comes to quality health care and health insurance. CFO Sink sponsored a resolution honoring the 20th anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), which was signed into law on July 26, 1990. Alex outlines her most important issues as education, transportation and public accommodation, here's Alex's most recent statement regarding Floridians with disabilities:

"People with disabilities strive to lead fulfilling lives and make remarkable achievements and contributions to our nation," said CFO Sink. "However, in the past, America's disabled have faced the possibility of discrimination in many areas, from education to transportation and public accommodation, and that's why this legislation continues to be of the utmost importance to our country."
