2023 Legislative Session Update: March 13, 2023; Volume 23, Issue 3

Mobile Response Team Pilot Program

The Governor's budget recommendation of $3,357,950 in nonrecurring funds for those with a co-occurring mental health diagnosis and a developmental disability will be used to initiate a Mobile Response Team Pilot program in Orange and Broward counties. The Council supports the Governor's budget recommendation.

The pilot program will utilize Mobile Response Teams to support individuals on the Agency for Persons with Disabilities (APD) iBudget waiver who have this dual diagnosis and who are behaviorally unstable. This pilot will provide Board Certified Behavior Analysts for existing 24-Hour Mobile Response Teams who have experience with individuals with both mental health and developmental disability diagnoses. These existing teams consist of Licensed Mental Health Therapists, a nurse, access to a psychiatrist and can admit an individual through a Baker Act should the individual meet Baker Act criteria. The Mobile Response Team's primary role is to assess, de-escalate and stabilize the individual in their current residential setting, if possible. The team determines if a psychiatric inpatient admission is needed into a crisis stabilization unit (CSU).

Individuals with developmental disabilities can struggle finding mental health treatments that are responsive to their developmental needs. Often, clients experience lengthy stays in CSUs that jeopardize their current living arrangements.

National trends show that 35-40% of individuals who have a developmental disability also have a mental health need. This indicates that potentially 12,416 of the 35,474 individuals served by Agency for Persons with Disabilities Medicaid Waiver, could benefit from the specialized services.

It is estimated that close to 1900 individuals will be admitted to a CSU through a Baker Act this year.
